Teachers and College Supervisors Participating in Stage 4 of Clinical Practice*

Revised: November 2024

OVERVIEW OF STUDENT TEACHING

Student Teachers have an opportunity to see theory and practice working side by side as the prospective educators study the teaching-learning situation to which they are exposed. The Cooperating Teacher will introduce the Student Teacher to the profession in a gradual and realistic way. Every possible responsibility of a teacher will be shared with the Student Teacher as he/she gains a true perspective of the expectations of this important role. The College Supervise will guide and evaluate the progress made by the Student Teacher.

As Student Teachers participate in this exciting experience, we hope that they each will reflect upon their individual assets and liabilities, and where necessary, make the needed adjustments. Growth and reflection are key aspects of student teaching. Everyone involved in this vital learning process will do their utmost to ensure these desired goals and focus on PK-12 student growth.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ELIGIBILITY

Students complete a student teaching application approximately one year prior to their professional semester. They work with their advisor to finalize and approve the application. In addition to required coursework for each Education Major, students must have the following requirements in place by the first day of the last month of the semester preceding the Student Teaching Semester:

- GPA of 3.0 or higher
- TB Test, signed by health professional*
- 3 Clearances, noting no record or arrests*

-Student Teachers are responsible for providing these documents to their placement district as well as to the York College of Pennsylvania's Department of Education office.*

York College of Pennsylvania does not require student teachers to pass Pennsylvania certification exams to graduate. However, the College recommends that each student apply for Pennsylvania teaching certification. To apply for Pennsylvania certification, it is the student's responsibility to register for, take, and earn a qualifying score(s) on the corresponding exam(s) required for the respective certification area(s). Most students take their certification exams the semester prior to student teaching, the break before student teaching, or at the beginning of the student teaching semester. York College of Pennsylvania is a Pennsylvania-approved institute of higher education, meaning that any student who successfully passes all education coursework, passes student teaching, possesses a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher, earns qualifying certification exam scores, and displays good moral character is eligible for Pennsylvania teaching certification. Should a student choose to seek certification in a state other than Pennsylvania, it is the obligation of that student to investigate that state's certification requirements (which could include additional coursework and/or alternative certification exams). More information regarding certification can be found on the following websites:

<https://www.education.pa.gov/>

GOALS & OBJECTIVES OF STUDENT TEACHING

The Student Teacher will:

- Participate in the daily activities and classroom routines where he/she can develop his/her teaching skills, thus preparing him/her to undertake a full-time position.
- Follow the placement school's calendar, placement school's teacher hours, and all other policies established by the assigned school.
- Practice the tasks of the classroom teacher by integrating a workable balance between educational theory and practice.
- Recognize and cultivate the qualities and characteristics of a good teacher: enthusiasm for teaching and the profession, ability to cooperate with the entire school community, dependability, flexibility, consistency, correct English usage, sense of humor, emotional stability, depth of knowledge in selected disciplines, appropriate professional conduct, proper professional appearance, and good physical health.
- Develop skill and judgment in selecting teaching objectives at the appropriate level, teaching to those objectives, monitoring and adjusting those objectives, and evaluation whether objectives have been attained.
- Create, develop, and implement instructional activities in the context of a functioning classroom.
- Understand and implement individualized teaching in all areas of the curriculum and recognize the value of formative and summative assessments and utilize them effectively to meet the needs of all learners.
- Develop desirable and effective techniques of individual and group guidance and control.
- Develop the ability for self-evaluation to continue professional and personal growth.
- Demonstrate student teaching competencies as developed by Pennsylvania Department of Education found in the Supporting Documents section of this Handbook.

COOPERATING TEACHER- ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

York College has adopted an on-site, full-time Student Teaching experience as part of the Professional Semester in Teacher Education. The Cooperating Teacher serves an important role in the Student Teaching experience by providing crucial professional advice and encouragement in the field. The Cooperating Teacher should feel free to make suggestions to the Student Teacher at any time. This input is needed, expected, and deemed necessary on a regular basis. The classroom and the PK-12 students are ultimately the responsibility of the Cooperating Teacher, the teacher of record.

York College students participate in a vast amount of Field Experiences prior to student teaching, thus should be initiated early into carefully chosen teaching responsibilities. The Cooperating Teacher is the individual most qualified to determine exactly what the scope, sequence, and progressive intensity of the Student Teacher's involvement should be in terms of the Student Teacher's apparent strengths and needs.

As the semester progresses the Student Teacher should be delegated greater responsibility. The Student Teacher should be allowed to make decisions, try some new strategies, and deal with risks incumbent in introducing new activities. Mistakes, failures, and misjudgments are part of implementation of the Student Teacher's personal teaching techniques.

The Student Teacher should be permitted to be "the teacher" with all the inherent responsibilities. Usually, this necessitates the Cooperating Teacher's leaving the classroom with increasing frequency as the Student Teacher demonstrates the ability to handle classroom interaction.

Inclusion in professional responsibilities is vital during the student teaching semester. Student Teachers should be included in all professional development/in-service days, parent events, IEP /IST meetings, etc. When dealing with parents, the Cooperating Teacher should always be present and approve any parent communications delivered by the Student Teacher.

Co-teaching between the Student Teacher and the Cooperating Teacher is encouraged throughout the experience. The Cooperating Teacher may determine the extent of co-teaching strategies and methods utilized to best meet the needs of the learners in the classroom.

The Cooperating Teacher is responsible for providing guidance throughout the experience. The Cooperating Teacher does not assign a "grade" to the Student Teacher; however, he/she consults regularly with the College Supervisor and Student Teacher on strengths and growth areas of the Student Teacher. In addition to verbal feedback, the Cooperating Teacher completes a mid-semester and end-of-semester evaluation of the Student Teacher's mastery of the Pennsylvania Department of Education's Stage 4 Field Experience Competencies. This evaluation is not the Student Teacher's grade but is used to provide the College Supervisor with meaningful input. The Cooperating Teacher also provides a letter of reference for the Student Teacher at the end of the semester.

York College of Pennsylvania values the expertise of professionals in the field. We appreciate the efforts the Cooperating Teacher puts forth to mentor their Student Teacher. Cooperating Teachers receive a stipend near the end of the semester if proper paperwork (W9) is submitted to the College.

COLLEGE SUPERVISOR- ROLE AND RESPONSIBILITIES

The College Supervisor acts as a coordinator and liaison to ensure that the Student Teaching experience is positive and productive. Responsibility for the final determination of the Student Teacher's grade rests with the College Supervisor, and the College Supervisor may request the Cooperating Teacher's candid and useful observations and recommendations in respect to the Student Teacher's performance.

Qualifications

- Minimum of a Master's degree in an educational field
- Minimum of 5 years teaching experience in elementary or secondary education, public or private school settings
- Certification/experience teaching in supervision or certification/experience in an administrative/supervisory capacity. (i.e. – Superintendent, Program Supervisor, Principal, Head Teacher, Department Chair, etc.) OR employment as a faculty member of the College.
- Previous experience in leadership positions

Specific Duties and Functions of the Supervisor

- Act as a liaison on behalf of the College.
- Maintain communication with the Department of Education's Field Services Division via the YCP email account.
- Hold an initial meeting with the Student Teacher prior to the beginning of the semester (the Student Teacher must schedule this meeting utilizing contact information provided by the Division of Field Services in the assignment email). Expectations of the College Supervisor and evaluation documentation are introduced and discussed during these initial meetings.
- Develop and maintain a working relationship between Cooperating Teacher, School Administrators, and the Student Teacher.
- Work with the Cooperating Teacher in the planning, observations, participation, and evaluation of the Student Teacher.
- Visit the site 8-10 times per semester (dual special education Student Teachers receive at least 4 visits per placement). These visits include informal visits, evaluation conferences, student teacher lesson observations, etc.
- Observe and evaluate the Student Teacher teaching lessons a minimum of 6 times (or more if needed). It is expected that the College Supervisor holds a post-conference with the Student Teacher to provide feedback on each observed lesson. This post-conference may be scheduled in person or online.
- Use the York College of Pennsylvania Visitation Form for all written comments of the observation(s) and/or visit(s). The commentary should include a description of what was observed, positive comments, ideas, and recommendations for improvement. The College

Supervisor retains each original signed Visitation Form, and a copy is provided to the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher.

- Each completed Visitation Form must be discussed with and signed by the Student Teacher following each visit at a post-conference (face-to-face or virtually).
- Check the Student Teacher Notebook during each visit for required components. This notebook may be physical or shared online.
- Participate in at least two sets of evaluation conferences with the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher as follows:
 - Mid-semester: utilizing the Student Teacher Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies document (Student Teacher, Cooperating Teacher, and College Supervisor complete), and then the PDE 430 form (only College Supervisor completes and is confidential between the Student Teacher, College Supervisor, and Department of Education)
 - End of semester: utilizing the Student Teacher Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies document (Student Teacher, Cooperating Teacher, and College Supervisor complete), and then the PDE 430 form (only College Supervisor completes), and the final letter of reference (completed by the College Supervisor on York College of Pennsylvania letterhead and by the Cooperating Teacher utilizing school or teacher letterhead)
- Assign the final grade for Student Teaching based upon the cumulative score on the end-of-semester PDE 430 (table provided in this Handbook). The College Supervisor will enter this grade into the College's online portal.
- Each College Supervisor is required to use the most current mileage log furnished by York College of Pennsylvania for recording miles traveled to visit Student Teachers in their host schools. This form should be downloaded from York College's College Supervisor website each semester, to be certain the correct mileage documentation is utilized. Miles traveled may be recorded according to either of the following examples (the shortest distance should be recorded):
 - from home to school to home
 - from York College to school to York College

College Supervisors submit a travel log on the required form to the College at the end of each semester, along with all other required paperwork.

- The Provost of Academic Affairs determines compensation for the College Supervisors each fiscal year. This payment is equal to pay for one credit hour per student teacher.

STUDENT TEACHING CONDUCT

- Student Teachers must contact both the Cooperating Teacher and College Supervisor to introduce themselves and arrange initial meetings with both parties prior to the start of the semester.

- Student Teachers will conform to the policies, philosophies, hours, calendars, and routines of the placement school and the Cooperating Teacher (this includes holidays and professional development days).
- Student Teachers will only follow the York College of Pennsylvania academic calendar for start date, end date, and any evening face-to-face or online coursework.
- Extra-curricular activities (including work, clubs, and sports) should be limited.
- Student Teachers are not to be absent from Student Teaching, unless:
 - personal illness (doctor's note may be required)
 - death of an immediate family member
 - job interview or job fair
 - state certification exams (if there are no weekend or evening exam options)
- The Student Teacher should not contact parents or schedule parent conferences without the approval of the Cooperating Teacher. All meetings with parents should include the Cooperating Teacher. The Cooperating Teacher should approve all written correspondence.
- Pennsylvania Code of Professional Practice and Conduct for Educators must be adhered to throughout the semester.
- Student Teacher Professional and Personal Dispositions must be followed during the experience. These behaviors include the following:
 - Competence in written and oral expression
 - Professional attitude
 - Personal enthusiasm
 - Ethical, moral character
 - Personal organization
 - Ability to meet deadlines
 - Good interpersonal skills
 - Ability to accept and profit from constructive criticism
 - Personal maturity
 - Use of prudent judgment
 - Class attendance
 - Demonstrated professional growth in planning, lesson execution, and reflection at a level expected for the identified stage of field experience
- Student Teachers should use caution with regards to social media.
- The College discourages non-educational relationships with students and their families.
- Inappropriate behavior, actions, or decisions by Student Teachers may result in an immediate removal from Student Teaching.
- If, at any time during enrollment at York College, a student teacher becomes embroiled in any legal actions that would result in an offense that would be designated on a clearance check, the student must immediately notify the Chairperson of the Department of Education.

STUDENT TEACHER REQUIRED NOTEBOOK

Each Student Teacher is required to keep a Student Teaching Notebook. This notebook should be established prior to the first day of Student Teaching. The College Supervisor and Student Teacher must agree upon the format for the notebook (either hard copy or digital format). The notebook must be divided into nine sections. Each section must be labeled as follows:

Student Teacher Handbook

- A copy of this Student Teaching Handbook should be placed in the notebook for reference throughout the semester.

Reflection Log

- This begins immediately. There is to be an entry completed at the end of each week.
- At minimum, students are to provide at least two quality paragraphs on a weekly basis. Each entry will consist of reflecting upon teaching, activities, interactions, etc. Lessons learned should be evident.
- The log must be typed. The Student Teacher will submit this to the College Supervisor at the end of each week, along with his/her schedule for the upcoming week.
- The day of the week and the time the Log and Schedule are due to the College Supervisor must be adhered to. This due date is determined by the College Supervisor and shared with the Student Teacher.

Lesson Plans

- Students should begin by using the York College of Pennsylvania lesson plan format found in the Supporting Documents section of this Handbook.
- Transition to the school's format may eventually occur with the permission of the Cooperating Teacher and College Supervisor.
- The Cooperating Teacher should initial all lesson plans denoting approval prior to the teaching of the lesson. It is vital that the Student Teacher submit plans to the Cooperating Teacher in ample time for Cooperating Teacher feedback (suggestions, criticisms, etc.). This timeframe should be established by the Cooperating Teacher and shared with the Student Teacher (usually a minimum of two days prior to the scheduled teaching of the lesson).
- The College Supervisor may require that the Student Teacher send lesson plans to them at any time.
- Lesson plans are to be typed, thorough, developed in logical progressive order, and written with correct spelling and grammar.

Observations of Other Teachers

- The Student Teacher will conduct, at minimum, five observations of five other teachers/lessons. Each observation should be at least one subject/period. This could involve seeing more than one subject/lesson. The student is to include the following in his/her observation report:
 - Narrative of what was observed
 - Strategies/Techniques/Instructional activities observed
 - Management (organization of classroom, discipline plan, how specific situations are addressed, transitions between activities, maintaining active engagement, etc.)
 - Reflections (What are some strategies observed that will be incorporated into one's own teaching? What are some goals to establish, based upon what was observed?)
- The student will plan these with the assistance of the Cooperating Teacher and they may occur in other schools within the placement district.

Evaluation Copies

- Mid-semester
- End-semester

Student Teaching Visitation Forms

- The College Supervisor will utilize a Visitation Form at each meeting and/or observation.
- The Visitation Form requires both the Student Teacher's signature and the College Supervisor's signature. This completed form is shared with the Cooperating Teacher.

Checklist of Student Teaching Responsibilities

- This can be found in this Student Teaching Handbook (see Supporting Documents).
- The checklist will be submitted to the College Supervisor when completed.

Miscellaneous

- Student Growth Project
 - This project includes a report that summarizes a lesson or topic taught where a pre- and post-test were utilized. Growth of students as a result of instruction should be reflected upon (see Supporting Documents section of this Handbook)
 - Any other materials (ideas, etc.) that the student teacher would like to include (this is optional)

The Student Teacher Notebook must be made available during each College Supervisor Visit. The College Supervisor may take the notebook for further reading near the end of the semester (to use when formulating the final evaluation). The Student Teacher will keep his/her Notebook at the conclusion of the Student Teaching Semester.

PROGRESSION (FLEXIBLE)

The following progression is suggested and should remain flexible. Co-teaching strategies between the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher may be utilized during any of the stages.

York College offers students the opportunity to complete field experience the semester prior to student teaching in the same classroom where they will be placed for student teaching. If students have been granted this option, the following progression is often accelerated because students have a familiarity with the classroom procedures and district policies.

Early Elementary, Middle Level, Secondary, Special Education (only), Music, and Spanish Education Majors:

Stage	Suggested Timeframe
Orientation & Adjustment	Week 1
Observation & Demonstration	Weeks 2-3
Increasing Responsibility	Weeks 4-8
Full Load	Weeks 9-12
Culmination & Evaluation	Weeks 13-15

Early Elementary/Special Education and Middle Level/ Special Education Dual Majors:

Stage	Regular Education Suggested Timeframe	Special Education Suggested Timeframe
Orientation & Adjustment	Week 1	Week 8
Observation & Demonstration	Week 2	Week 9
Increasing Responsibility	Weeks 3-4	Week 10
Full Load	Weeks 5-6	Weeks 11-14
Culmination & Evaluation	Week 7	Week 15

It is recommended that the Cooperating Teacher and the Student Teacher collaborate to create a draft calendar outlining which weeks the Student Teacher will be responsible for teaching specific subjects, preps, or periods. This should be shared with the College Supervisor.

Stage of Orientation and Adjustment

Suggested Activities for Cooperating Teachers:

- Cooperating Teachers gather materials for the Student Teacher to use (class schedules, class lists, seating charts, manuals, curriculum guides, etc.).
- Familiarize the Student Teacher with the school neighborhood, socio-economic conditions and resources of the community.
- Inform parents of the Student Teacher's arrival and period of internship. Additionally, be - sure to provide introductions as the occasion arises.

- Set aside a desk and workspace for the Student Teacher. Provide for as “equal” accommodations as are available.
 - Familiarize the Student Teacher with the school building, personnel and support services.
 - Introduce the Building Principal and office staff to the Student Teacher.
 - Share school rules, regulations, policies, and calendar.
 - Relay specific expectations such as working hours, procurement of supplies, student record confidentiality, et al.
 - Discuss methods for discipline, classroom management, homework, tardiness, absences, and standards of quality expected from students.
 - Inform students of the role of the College Supervisor from York College as it relates to their class.
 - Explain methods of testing, grading, keeping records, and reporting to parents and the administration.
 - Discuss developmental characteristics of this age group.
 - Explain any unique characteristics of individual students that directly affect their learning.

Suggested Activities for the Student Teacher:

- Write an introductory letter to guardians (approved and sent by the Cooperating Teacher).
- Take attendance.
- Conduct daily opening exercises, morning meeting, bellringers, calendar work, etc.
- Distribute and collect class work and supplies.
- Correct student work.
- Conduct songs, poems, shared reading, read aloud, and small group work.
- Monitor group discussions or independent work.
- Work in a tutorial capacity with individual students.
- Observe other teachers.

Stage of Observation and Demonstration

Suggested Activities and Discussion Points for Cooperating Teachers:

- methods, philosophy, and strategies of the profession
- questions about planning – long and short range
- pacing
- focusing
- motivation
- closure
- class involvement / student response
- behavior objectives or lesson essential questions
- self-evaluation
- student evaluation

- elements of successful lesson plans
- his/her perceived strengths and weakness

Suggested Activities for the Student Teacher:

- Continue with suggestions from Orientation and Adjustment Period, but in greater quantity, and possibly with the addition of:
 - leading the students to specials/lunch/recess/etc.
 - one subject (elementary level) or period (secondary level) of instruction may be acquired by the Student Teacher.
 - observations of other teachers

Stage of Increasing Responsibility

At this time, the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher should consult as to which class or subject he/she will begin fully planning and teaching (if this hasn't already been done). As the next weeks progress, additional responsibilities at the rate of approximately one or two new subject or class per week should be placed upon the Student Teacher. This "gradual release of responsibility" is flexible. Depending on the Cooperating Teacher's judgment as to the success of this undertaking, it usually will culminate with the responsibility for the full day.

During this time period, the Cooperating Teacher and the Student Teacher should:

- Confer orally and/or in written form daily.
- Work as a team. This may include co-teaching.
- Consult on all lesson plans. The Cooperating Teacher must approve and initial all Student Teacher lesson plans.
- Maintain communication with the College Supervisor.
- Cooperating Teacher should help the Student Teacher to gain skills in self-evaluation.
- Cooperating Teacher may allow the Student Teacher freedom to try his/her own ideas and techniques; reassure him/her that as much can be learned from failure as from success.
- Cooperating Teacher could model techniques to help the student teacher succeed.
- Cooperating Teacher could provide student teacher with opportunities to observe and assist in parent conferences.
- Cooperating Teacher should begin to leave the room for short periods of time (gradually increase the length of time as the experience progresses).

Around mid-semester, a Mid-Term Evaluation will be held to discuss growth during the first half of the semester. Goals will be established for the last half of the semester. The Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher will each complete a Student Teaching Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies. The Student Teacher, Cooperating Teacher, and College Supervisor will have a mid-term three-way conference. The College Supervisor will complete a state evaluation (PDE430) to share with the Student Teacher only.

“Full Load” Student Teaching

The activities for this period should be like the previous one, with the exception that the Cooperating Teacher will be spending more of his/her time out of the classroom, while keeping in touch with the learning climate in the classroom. During this time, co-teaching strategies may still be utilized in efforts to meet the needs of all learners. If at any time the Cooperating Teacher and College Supervisor determine to limit full-load responsibilities due to student teacher ability, the student teacher’s grade may be impacted.

Stage of Culmination and Evaluation

The Cooperating Teacher is gradually re-assuming class responsibilities in the final weeks. The Cooperating Teacher will complete a typed final evaluation/letter of reference one or two weeks prior to the end of Student Teaching. In addition, the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher will each complete a Student Teaching Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies. The Student Teacher, Cooperating Teacher, and College Supervisor will have a final three-way conference to discuss the growth that occurred throughout the semester. The College Supervisor will complete a state evaluation (PDE430) and assign a final grade for the Student Teacher.

CONFERENCES

The conference is a vital communication tool by which the Cooperating Teacher and College Supervisor can provide coaching and feedback to the Student Teacher. Most conferences will occur on an informal, unscheduled basis (daily between the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher). Informal conferences may also happen during visits from the College Supervisor (between the College Supervisor and Cooperating Teacher or between the College Supervisor and the Student Teacher). There will be some evaluative conferences, and these will be scheduled in advance.

Types of conferences

- 2-Way Conferences
 - Student Teacher & Cooperating Teacher
 - Student Teacher & College Supervisor
 - College Supervisor & Cooperating Teacher
- 3-Way Conferences
 - Student Teacher & Cooperating Teacher & College Supervisor

Possible Conference Topics

- Framework for Teaching (found in Supporting Documents)
- Preparation for instruction
- Management of the classroom setting

- Interaction with students
- Professionalism
- School policies and procedures, including security issues
- Parent/community interaction (The Cooperating Teacher must be involved in all parent communication)

Conferencing Tips

- Discuss some targeted areas to look for or goals to conference about later.
- Be specific in feedback.
- Don't be afraid to give suggestions.
- Establish an atmosphere of growth.
- Provide "2 Praises and a Push" (share two positives and one area to work on).
- Develop specific, observable action plans.
- Consider using a dialogue journal.
- Remember: this is a learning and growing experience!

EVALUATION

The College Supervisor is responsible for the Student Teacher's final grade. The grade is based upon consultations with the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher, as well as the College Supervisor's visits and Student Teacher's submitted work.

Mid-Semester

- The Mid-Term Evaluation occurs around the midpoint of the semester.
- The Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher independently complete the Student Teaching Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies.
- The College Supervisor will schedule a 3-way conference to discuss the York College of Pennsylvania Student Teaching Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies completed by the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher.
- After the meeting, the College Supervisor will complete the mid-term PDE 430 form, as required by the Pennsylvania Department of Education.
- The College Supervisor will subsequently schedule a meeting with the Student Teacher to review the PDE 430 form and have the Student Teacher sign this form. This meeting should only include the Student Teacher and College Supervisor. Both parties will retain a copy of the PDE 430. The PDE 430 is a confidential document and may only be shared with the Cooperating Teacher if the Student Teacher chooses to do so.
- The two York College of Pennsylvania Student Teaching Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies forms and the PDE 430 (mid-term) form are to be retained by the College Supervisor to be submitted at the end of the semester to the College.

End of Semester

- The College Supervisor will schedule and lead a 3-way conference to discuss the Final Evaluation of Student Teaching. The 3-way meeting should consist of:
 - A review of the Cooperating Teacher and Student Teacher's Student Teacher Evaluation of PDE Stage 4 Competencies completed forms.
 - Cooperating Teacher's typewritten Final Evaluation/Reference letter*
 - Original goes to Student Teacher
 - Second copy given to College Supervisor
 - College Supervisor is to indicate that the York College stipend check will be mailed to the Cooperating Teacher shortly after graduation.
 - College Supervisor collects "Checklist of Student Teaching Responsibilities" from Student Teacher (this must be signed by the Student Teacher and Cooperating Teacher).
 - The College Supervisor may choose to require that the Student Teacher Notebook be submitted to him/her. The Notebook may be utilized by the College Supervisor to determine a final grade. The Notebook must be returned to the Student Teacher, as the student ultimately retains the Notebook.
- The College Supervisor will schedule a 2-way Final Evaluation Conference with the Student Teacher. The Final Conference should consist of:
 - College Supervisor's typewritten Final Evaluation/Reference letter*
 - Original goes to Student Teacher
 - Second copy is to be retained by College Supervisor
 - Final PDE 430 form is to be discussed with Student Teacher
 - After signatures are affixed, a copy is given to Student Teacher.
 - College Supervisor may not give copies to any other individual, except York College of Pennsylvania Department of Education personnel.
 - The original is to be retained by the College Supervisor.
 - Final Grade for Student Teaching is to be given verbally by the College Supervisor to the Student Teacher.
- A "Letter of Completion" signed by the College's Certification Officer, will be available for each Student Teacher on the last day of Student Teaching, if the following requirements are met:
 - The student is on track to pass Student Teaching and any required, accompanying coursework.
 - The student passed all required Pennsylvania state testing, with scores on file in the in the Department of Education Office at the College.
 - The student is certified for graduation or program completion by the Records Office (including paying the graduation fee in the Business Office).

- Letters of Completion may be retrieved no earlier than the last day of student teaching in the Education Programs Office, LS134. This letter may serve as a temporary teaching license, until the student applies for and receives their certificate from the Pennsylvania Department of Education.

*Instructions for Final Letter of Reference

All Cooperating Teachers and College Supervisors should create a final reference letter. This letter should be typed on letterhead. For Cooperating Teachers this would be either School letterhead or School District letterhead. For College Supervisors, this would be York College of Pennsylvania letterhead. The letters must contain standard header and footer information items. An example of such a letter can be found in the Supporting Documents section of this Handbook. The following information should be included in the letter:

Header:

- The Student Teacher's Full Name
- The semester and year of the Student Teaching experience
- The Cooperating Teacher's Full Name
- The elementary grade(s) or secondary subject area

Footer:

- The full name of the evaluator
- The title of the evaluator
- The signature of the evaluator
- The current date

Body of Letter:

- Comments of an evaluative nature, on areas such as:
 - Planning and preparation skills
 - Classroom environment established
 - Instructional strategies utilized
 - Professional responsibilities
- Degree to which the author recommends the student teacher for future employment, such as:
 - Unconditionally recommend
 - Very highly recommend
 - Highly recommend
 - Recommend
 - Recommend with reservations

Determination of Final Grade

The College Supervisor is responsible for the Student Teacher's final grade. The grade will be based on the final evaluation PDE 430 form. The chart below indicates the PDE 430 final evaluation total points scored with the corresponding York College of Pennsylvania grade. All College Supervisors will utilize the following chart when assigning a grade.

PDE 430 Overall Evaluation Score	York College of Pennsylvania Final ST Grade
10	3.5
9	3.5
7	2.5
6	2.5

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- York College of Pennsylvania has developed a policy to address substituting while student teaching. Please refer to the document entitled "Substituting While Student Teaching" found in the Supporting Documents section of this Handbook.
- In the event of a prolonged disruptive situation in a Student Teacher's placement school, such as strikes by professional employees or a prolonged illness, the College Supervisor should contact the Field Services Division as soon as possible for guidance.

- If a Student Teacher's performance is below average, the Supervisor should report to the Division of Field Services as soon as possible for guidance. If it is decided that an improvement plan is needed, the College Supervisor will create an improvement plan to outline measurable steps for improvement in a specified timeframe. The plan must be written utilizing the Student Teaching Improvement Plan found on the College Supervisor page of the website. The College Supervisor will report the progress of this plan to the Division of Field Services periodically. If measurable progress is not made and the predicted grade drops below a "2," the College strongly suggests that the student be withdrawn from, rather than fail the Student Teaching experience.
- Student Teachers are considered for withdrawal from the Student Teaching assignment for a variety of reasons, including issues that may be personal, interpersonal and/or related to competency or skills. If a Student Teacher requests withdrawal or the College Supervisor determines the necessity of withdrawing a student from the Student Teaching experience, the College Supervisor will consult with the Division of Field Services. Decision to withdraw the student should be a mutual agreement of the College Supervisor, the Cooperating Teacher, the Division of Field Services, and the Chair of the Department of Education. The case will be reviewed with the Department of Education Chair, and a meeting with the student may be scheduled. The final decision to remove a Student Teacher generally lies with the Chairperson. However, should the cooperating teacher or placement district decide to discontinue a student teacher's placement due to concerns, the student will no longer be able to continue in the professional student teaching semester.
- Any student who is withdrawn by the Department from student teaching for reasons such as unsatisfactory performance, personal issues, etc. is ineligible to re-enter to the Professional Semester at York College of Pennsylvania.
- Students who are withdrawn from Student Teaching and still need credits to fulfill graduation requirements may be offered, at the discretion of the Chair, the opportunity to register for an alternate course known as Alternate Education Pathway (EDU480). The College Supervisor continues to work with the student in EDU480, overseeing and guiding the focused study. If passed, this course may allow the student to graduate with a degree in Education. However, any student who does not complete and pass the student teaching experience is ineligible for teaching certification. Students who are withdrawn from Student Teaching and choose the Alternate Education Pathway may pursue a certification program elsewhere after graduation, but they are ineligible to return to any York College of Pennsylvania program providing initial certification (undergraduate or post-baccalaureate). More information about EDU480 can be found in the Alternate Education Pathway Handbook, which is available upon request from the Division of Field Services.
- Any student who pursues a medical withdraw through the College and does not complete the Alternate Education Pathway may apply to re-enter the Professional Semester after arranging a meeting with the Director of Field Services and the Chair of the Department of education. A student may only register for the Professional Semester a maximum of two times when a medical withdraw is involved. The medical withdrawal would be counted as the first of the two times. If the student is interested in rejoining York College the semester after their medical leave expires, they may be required to take additional coursework. Additionally, if that student is interested in returning, they must consult with their advisor and contact the Coordinator of Field Services to re-apply for student teaching.

To Whom It May Concern,

It was my pleasure to have [redacted] as my student teacher from [redacted] to [redacted]. She was an asset to my classroom and will be greatly missed. This classroom is a bit nontraditional in that we teach reading, Guided Reading, and three sections of math. She adapted quickly and taught with the skills of a seasoned teacher.

[redacted] mature, professional nature was evident right away. She was eager to jump right in to helping students. She asked questions and worked to understand how our classroom worked. She was committed to getting to know the students. [redacted] worked to form relationships with both students, staff, and parents. She worked as a contributing part of our teaching team. She attended and shared in IST meetings, grade level meetings, parent meetings, and participated in faculty spirit days.

[redacted] used the district's curriculum maps to plan and prepare lessons that fit with our district's specific model for teaching. She used a variety of resources such as local libraries, technology, and manipulatives in the classroom to facilitate student learning. She was able to look at curriculum materials to plan for her daily teaching, but she was also very good at looking ahead to see where the class was going to be in the near future. This helped her to make good decisions about what to teach and when to assess.

[redacted] did an excellent job using classroom management strategies to promote positive student behavior. She was able to implement the school-wide Effect Behavior plan as well as the plans for our classroom and team. She used many effective management strategies and gave appropriate consequences when necessary. She clearly stated her expectations for student work and behavior which helped the students rise to the expectations.

[redacted] ability to instruct the students was outstanding. She was very comfortable in front of the classes from the very beginning. She used a variety of resources and teaching strategies to meet the needs of the diverse learners. She has a talent for using information about students from assessments and observation to form small groups to enrich and reteach. She used student IEPs and modified lessons to support the learning needs of those students.

[redacted] presents as an experienced teacher who truly cares for the students she teaches. Your school district would be lucky to have her on staff.

Sincerely,

[redacted], Grade [redacted], [redacted] Elementary
